The DIMMER VIEW

Governor Saves the Whale . . . and Let's the People Wait

Governor Edmund G. Brown Jr., is in heavy communication with the press again. This time it is about the sorry plight of the whale.

On the governor's stationery came his notice that on Saturday, this week, at the Sacramento Memorial Auditorium, he is sponsoring an entertainment program in commemoration of the rapidly diminishing number of the huge ocean mammals.

To create interest, the program includes Country Joe McDonald, a recording artist; John Sebastian, founding member of the Lovin' Spoonful; Fred Neil, folk singer, and the Paul Winter Consort, a Connecticut music group.

The Governor's great concern with whales only emphasizes some of his offbeat attitudes on other matters. It would be far more reassuring if he were to give as much attention to people-problems of the state.

With crime and unemployment high; with taxes rising and the number of government bureaus growing; with more people on the welfare rolls, it would seem more appropriate for the thrust of his office be used to solve these problems. Whales should be given a lesser priority.

Yet, just a month ago, he was throwing the prestige of his office behind Proposition 14, the farm initiative that would have given union organizations more power than the electorate wanted them to have.

Governor Brown's overkill-failure on Prop. 14 may have set into motion the machinery that will eventually produce his downfall — if he seeks reelection. The veil of invincibility with which he wrapped himself has been lifted. Already there are smart political personalities casting strong glances toward the governor's chair. There are San Diego Mayor Pete Wilson and Attorney General Evelle Younger. Both have good credentials in executive offices.

While Brown failed to appreciate the hazards of Prop. 14, a more experienced Democrat, Assembly Speaker Leo McCarthy did. He knew 14 was a political turkey and he bailed out early. He did it to signal to the rural areas that not all of the Democrats had turned their backs on the farm vote.

This assurance probably saved a half-dozen seats in the Assembly alone. Brown failed to get the danger signal. That mistake led U.S. Senator John Tunney to follow Brown's leadership. Tunney was wiped out. Luckily, Jimmy Carter didn't need California. He lost the state.

This isn't the only negative action generated by Governor Brown. There is his association with the Raymond Procunier case. Procunier, you may recall, former head of the California Adult Authority, resigned rather than face State Senate confirmation after Brown appointed him. A wide cross-section of mounting criticism arose regarding his parole policies.

In spite of Brown's strong support, Procunier backed off and averted a Senate debate which would have revealed his shoddy record during his service as head of the Department of Corrections and Adult Authority.

But Brown is a determined young man. He then appointed Procunier Director of the scandal-ridden State Department of Health — the department which was recently embarrassed by charges that funds allocated to the State's multi-million dollar pre-paid health plans may have ended up in somebody's pocket. Those allegations presented the Brown Adminstration with a real dilemma. There were two courses it could follow. One was a completely public approach that emphasized openness and candor.

The alternative was to sweep the dirt under the rug and obstruct any investigation which threatens to expose wrongdoing.

Could Governor Brown and Mr. Procunier have decided on the latter?

Let Senator H. L. Richardson tell about a memo he says was recently circulated at the Department of Public Health. It verifies, he says, an important policy change Procunier had announced several weeks before in a top staff meeting.

". . . Procunier's first move was to place a gag order on all department employees. No one in the Dept. of Health may now have any contact with the Legislature without advance approval from the administration. Could this have been aimed at plugging any leaks that might lead to an investigation? No matter, it allows Procunier to maintain total control over the flow of information to the public.

"It probably means that in the face of a brewing scandal, the Brown Administration is scrapping the 'new politics' concept and borrowing a page from Tricky Dick. Employees of the Department of Health have been instructed to 'stonewall it' when questioned. To clarify the intent, the memo specifically forbids employees from cooperating with the Legislature, the elected representatives of the people of California.

"Furthrmore, the memo forbids any contact by employees with Dr. Jerome Lackner, the Director of the Dept. of Health. The memo reads, '. . . no staff is to speak directly with Dr. Lackner on department business without first clearing it through the deputy director and chief deputy director.'

"Whatever the reason, one thing is clear. Raymond Procunier has made a prison out of the Dept. of Health, something he never did with his prisons . . . (the control) places him in a position to successfully thwart an investigation . . . at least for a while.

"Eventually, the truth will come — it always does. But these questions remain:

"If the Brown Administration is convinced that no scandal exists in the Dept. of Health, then what purpose is served by the Procunier gag order?

"On the other hand, if there is, and has been wrongdoing in the Dept. of Health, what is to be gained by a cover-up? In an agency as large as Health, a cover-up could not possibly succeed for any length of time.

"In either case there is little justification for the order to 'stonewall it' with the Legislature," Richardson concluded.

These are matters about which the people have a right to know and secrecy should not be encouraged.

Signs of the Times

A local postal carrier was complaining about the heavier work load put on today's postmen.

He noted that two new subdivisions had been added to his route recently. This added more than 50 stops. Some of the stops took more time than average because they were new $45,000-$60,000 homes with lawns and long sidewalks.

". . . and stops have to be made to most of them on the day welfare checks are delivered," he noted.

Community Shows Heart for Kip Hayes

By John Kowalczyk

Community support of a fund drive in behalf of injured prep football player Kip Hayes has been overwhelming in Lemon Grove and Spring Valley.

Hayes, a defensive tackle on the Mt. Miguel High varsity prep football team, received a grave neck injury Friday in a game against Grossmont League leading Granite Hills.

A neighborhood with a reputation for being tight-pursed on tax levies for schools and parks and sluggish with collections for a community-school swimming pool has responded openly in what Mt. Miguel Principal Bob Pyle calls "a spontaneous outpouring of concern."

"The kids deserve the credit," said Pyle of Mt. Miguel students who have organized a trust fund for Hayes.

Contributions Pour In

By press deadline $8,850 in cash donations had been received and untold more dollars had been pledged.

Skyline Wesleyan Church had reportedly vowed to collect $6,000 for the cause.

FM radio rock station B-100 offered to stage a benefit dance at the school. Students manning the special school phone (463-1048) said Principal Pyle has already decided such a dance could not be held at Mt. Miguel because it would attract too large a crowd. But plans are under consideration to hold it on the San Diego State or Grossmont College campus.

Students Debbie Nicholson and Laurie Lukacik, instrumental in organizing the fund drive on Sunday, have been released from classes for the week and will man the phone headquarters through Sunday.

While the two girls will volunteer a more-than-full day shift — 7:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. — several others have pitched in when they can.

Some have taken collection boxes to neighborhood merchants.

"The whole school is involved," says Lukacik. "Everyone contributes what he can."

The gravity of Hayes' injury gripped the entire Miguel campus on Monday. Principal Pyle said the mood was "subdued and styfling. It's very difficult to concentrate on anything else."

He described Hayes as a "very well liked, quiet kid" who, though not a top student, earned good grades.

Condition Critical

Latest word from El Cajon Valley Hospital, where Hayes has been since the Friday night mishap, is that the Mt. Miguel senior is still in critical condition, his prognosis uncertain. He is paralyzed from the neck down.

Efforts of physicians from both teams and the presence of an ambulance are credited with keeping Hayes alive.

Granite Hills High is said to be the only school in the Grossmont District to furnish an on-the-scene ambulance—a donated service of Hartson's Ambulance Service.

A respirator on that vehicle sustained Hayes' breathing and saved his life.

What Happened

Lemon Grove physician and Mt. Miguel team doctor Sam Smith said Hayes fell motionless following a tackle against the GH quarterback during the final two minutes of the first half Friday night on the Granite Hills field.

He had a pulse but was not breathing. Smith said Miguel trainer Forrest Leakey restored breathing with mouth-to-mouth resuscitation during which Hayes' heart stopped.

Smith restored a pulse with Cardio-pulmonary resuscitation. The resuscitator was then applied and has kept Hayes breathing ever since.

A high school friend reported this week that Hayes thinks his injury is temporary and that he is determined to recover. Physicians, meanwhile, are uncertain of the extent of damage, according to second-hand reports.

Films taken by both teams fail to key on the contact, but it is said that Hayes sustained his injury by falling forward and striking his head on the shoulder of Granite Hills quarterback Aaron Graham just as Graham released a pass.

Worst Accident

It is the worst accident in the history of the Grossmont League. It surpassed a similar mishap four years ago when Tom Sperla, another Mt. Miguel defensive player, suffered a neck injury which temporarily paralized him.

George Sperla, Tom's father, said his son's injury occurred during a scrimmage. Nerves were damaged as a result of cracked vertibrae, but Tom was able to restore 70 to 80 per cent of his motor skills following six hours of surgery.

Hayes' injury is said to be more severe because the damage occurred higher on the vertibrae.

Collection efforts will continue through Sunday. Personnel will handle contributions from the school office daily to 3 p.m. and in Room 232 from 3 to 9 p.m.

Mailed contributions are accepted in care of the Kip Hayes Fund if send to Mt. Miguel High, 1800 Sweetwater rd., Spring Valley, 92077.

It is not known nor easily determined at present how much money will be enough to adequately assist Hayes' mother with hospital expenses.

It is known that the family is insured, that insurance covers only a percentage of medical expenses and that intensive care is costly.

Medical insurance is mandatory for anyone playing football in the Grossmont League, Pyle said.

"At the beginning of the season, all players are instructed to either purchase a $26 policy provided by the district or have a parent sign a waiver indicating that the family is already covered," he explained.

"Anyone who doesn't have insurance doesn't play football," he said.

All money collected goes into a special trust fund opened at California First Bank by bank vice president Frank Shughrue, a Spring Valley resident who has a son on the Miguel team.

Property Tax Bills Due December 10—at 5 p.m.

Property-tax Day is coming up like thunder.

That's the last day for owners of San Diego real property to pay half of their 1976-77 tax bills without a six per cent penalty being added to their first installment.

County Tax Collector James E. Jones said payments receiv- at his office by 5 p.m. on December 10 or which are postmarked before midnight of that date will be accepted without penalty.

He added a note of caution: The penalty is a flat 6 per cent of the total installment and is not an annual percentage rate, as some people assume.

By now, every owner of real property in the county should have received a tax bill or an information statement.

If the original bill is sent to a lending agency, the tax collector mails an information statement to the owner. More than a half million tax bills and 200,000 information statements were mailed during October.

Jones said any property owner who has not received some type of tax statement should contact his office at once.

Under California law, payment of penalties cannot be waived because the owner did not receive a bill.

The tax collector's office is located in Room 162 of the County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway. The number to call about tax bills is 236-3121.

The deadline for the second half of 1976-77 real property taxes is April 10.

Three-Day Celebration on SV Bicentennial Program

The S.V. Park & Rec. Dist. will join the S.V. Bicentennial Celebration on December 10, 11 and 12 with a three day weekend program of activities.

The action will be at Monte Vista and Mount Miguel High schools, La Presa Junior High and the S.V. Park, and other locations to be announced later.

There will be fireworks displays, arts and crafts fair, photo displays, softball tournaments, freethrow contests, movies, attempts of Guiness World Records, community stage and other attractions.

Entry blanks are waiting for hand-crafters shutter bugs, singers, dancers, actors, musicians, athletes, and any others who want to join the celebration.

Applications will be mailed to those who make telephone requests. Call Willie Williams, SVP&R Dist. supervisors at 475-5444. Or applications may be picked up at the district office at 8661 Jamacha blvd. next to the S.V. Park.

Drs. Smith, Brumbaugh Get Medical Exec Posts

Two Lemon Grove physicians were elected to executive posts of the California Academy of Family Physicians at its 28th Annual Scientific Assembly in Los Angeles recently.

Dr. Sam Smith became a member of the board of directors and Dr. Simon C. Brumbaugh was elected secretary of the Academy.

Dr. Brumbaugh was also named alternate delegate.

Dr. Brumbaugh, last week, was reelected by the San Diego Medical Society as a delegate-at-large to the California Medical Association. Dr. Smith was elected delegate from the Lemon Grove area.

Both men are associated with the Lemon Grove Medical Group.

Rings, Cash SV Loot

The dining room window of the residence of Ben Joseph Di Maria, 3553 Diversion st., Spring Valley, was the point of entry for a burglar on November 4, he reported.

Two rings he valued at $65 and a child's bank with $20 in it was the loot. He was away when the theft took place.

In this issue is a map showing boundaries for coming election on incorporation for Lemon Grove.

A hearing is scheduled on the proposed "reorganization" of districts relating to the city before the County Board of Supervisors on December 7 at 2 p.m. to approve or change the boundaries.

If and after the approval, the date of election will be set — probably for March. Before the election a tax rate for the proposed new city will be stablished by the Board of Supervisors.

Meanwhile, the area north of freeway 94 which approved annexation to the City of La Mesa, is being subjected to legal procedures by which it will be officially absorbed by La Mesa.

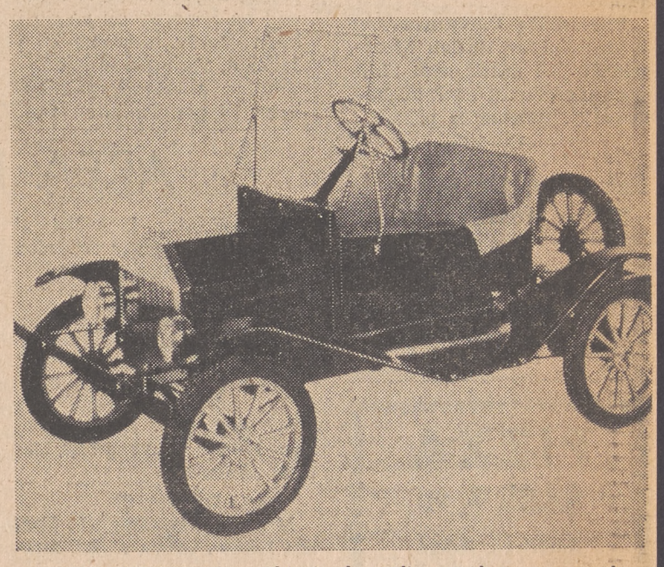
La Mesa has established a December 31 deadline so that the area can become a part of that city and get on the city's tax rolls for the year 1977.

The "reorganization" map is on page 7 in the form of a legal advertisement.

100 Planters Taken

While the Lyons Valley Stoneware warehouse was closed for the night on November 4, someone made off with 100 ceramic planters worth $8 each, according to Danny R. Diggins, manager.

The warehouse is located at 3615 Costa Bella ave., in Lemon Grove near the freeway 94 overpass.



MERRY CHRISTMAS — This is the "Flivver' that goes to the contest winner sponsored by the L.G. Chamber of Commerce. It will be driven along Broadway's parking strip on Monday.

CoC Flivver to Roam L.G.'s Broadway Mon.

The Ford "Flivver", to be given away by the Lemon Grove Chamber of Commerce on December 18, will be in operation on Broadway Monday afternoon.

Ken Norton, a member of the CoC Ways and Means Committee will drive it along the parking areas on both sides of Broadway at noon and again at 3 p.m.

The flivver has a 3½ hp motor and attains a speed of 25 mph, but is not permitted on public highways. It is valued at $1,000.

The scaled down replica of the 1911 Ford Model T has a 50-inch wheelbase. Its length is 72 inches and it is 34 inches wide.

Any proceeds generated from the CoC contest are being used for the Old Time Days celebration and parade scheduled for Saturday April 9 — just ahead of Easter.

Included with the flivver is a motor tuneup to be given without charge by the Franklin Saw Works, 1880 Skyline dr., Lemon Grove.

Other prizes include a pair of tickets for a World Hockey Association Mariners game and an autographed Charger football. A bottle of cheer from the L.G. VFW is also on the gift list.

Some of the helpers who have distributed contest tickets to local business houses are Jim Boyd, insuranceman; Dan Horwick, attorney; Leonard Klein, stationer; Larry Vlach, retired banker and Craig Lake, trophy firm operator.

With few exceptions, every firm on Broadway between Kempf and Imperial has a supply of tickets for the flivver. The auto has been displayed at Food Basket, Mayfair and Alpha Beta markets. This week it is being shown at the Gibraltar S&L and on Friday at the Bank of America.

Those who want to participate in the contest should visit any local merchant or the LG CoC. A call to the office of this newspaper will give exact location. The number is 469-0101.

Firms desiring tickets to display should call LG CoC 469-9621 or this newspaper.

The flivver will be delivered to the winner in time for the Christmas tree.

Counterfeit Bills Passed in Grove

The bottom dropped out of the money market for a Lemon Grove merchant last week.

The discovery was made after she accepted 24 one-dollar bills from a customer. Later, she noted that the Federal Reserve notes all carried the same serial number — L7235-9817B.

Sgt. Roger Jacobs referred her to the San Diego office of the Secret Service, the organization responsible for seeking out counterfeiters.

The currency was of good quality and good color and would have been accepted by anyone but a careful observer. Sgt. Jacobs noted that legal bills are printed by press and by rubbing the green side hard against white paper a trace of the green comes off.

Others who have accepted such bills should call the local office of the Secret Service. The number is 293-5640.

Meanwhile, business firms are advised to scan the bills they accept — especially printing-press new bills.

Car Wash Loot $150

C. B. Smith, operator of the Casa de Oro Car Wash, told sheriff's deputies on November 4 that someone had pried loose a coin box from his facility.

The thievery took place during the night hours and the loss to the owner was $145 for the device and $5 in cash it is estimated to have contained.

Rainfall Near 1 Inch

A week-end storm brought .82 inch of rain to the area. On November 11 it was heaviest with .68. The next day it was .12. On November 15 it was .02. That brought the season's total to 3.60.

Last year at the same time the total had realy only .20.

Earlier in the month, the temperature reached .96 to close out an unusual warm fall spell.

Tree to Live Again at LG Skyline Church

The Living Christmas Tree will be presented again this year, December 12, 13, and 14, at Skyline Wesleyan Church, 1345 Skyline drive, Lemon Grove. The public is invited to 6:30 and 8:30 p.m. performances each evening. Admission is free.

Enjoyed by nearly 7,000 people last year, the program involves a cast of 275 singers and instrumentalists. The attraction is a massive Christmas tree, constructed of steel, evergreen and lights, which houses the 65-voice Skyline Concert Chorle.

Other children's and youth choirs and puppets add to the spectacle.

Highlighting the program is the San Diego premiere of a new Christmas musical, "My Christmas Gift," by La Mesa composer Otis Skillings. Special lighting effects and orchestra accompany the presentation.

The Living Christmas Tree is directed by Harlan Moore, minister of music, and Skillings, director of chorale. Rev. Orval C. Butcher is pastor.

Roundball Season

Skyline Wesleyan Church has announced the opening of its church league basketball season.

Adventists Against Idea of Saturday 'Blue Law' Holiday

A spokesman for the Seventh-day Adventist faith said recently his church was "emphatically opposed to 'blue laws'" that would establish Saturday as a national day of rest.

The idea was presented in a recent editorial in Christianity Today, an evangelical publication.

While conceding that a day of rest would be beneficial as a means of conserving energy and fostering family togetherness, W. Melvin Adams, Adventists' director of public affairs and religious liberty, asserted that his church was against further use of civil law on behalf of religion.

"Worship, in order to be pleasing to God," continued Adams, "must spring voluntarily from the individual believer."

Floor Covering Store Opens Fri.

Bill Promesso, a 20-year veteran in the floor covering profession, opens a Lemon Grove store Friday at 7820 Broadway near Imperial, under the name of Western Floor Covering.

Promesso is from Michigan where he was in the floor covering business for approximately 17 years. He has been in San Diego for the past three years.

A well-known local installer —Bill Born—has become associated with the firm. Born is a specialist in sheet vinyl and linoleum installations.

A clown, balloons and free coffee and donuts will be part of the opening celebration.

In addition to vinyl and linoleum, the firm handles carpeting, drapes, tile and wall paper.

A feature of the store is a do-it-yourself section.

YOU AND YOUR PET

By Robert L. Stear, D.V.M.

Helping Pets at Delivery Time

As the time draws near for your dog to have her puppies, she may become restless, refuse food and look for shelter under a table or chair. She probably will handle the delivery by herself, but you should try to be nearby in case difficulties arise.

Some birth problems are a result of the female's physical condition. Obesity and poor muscle tone can be controlled by proper nutrition and exercise during pregnancy. As she begins to lose her girlish figure and puts on a little more weight, your pet's exercise periods should be shortened, but not eliminated. Short outings on level ground are to be encouraged, but mad dashes up and down stairs or jumping on and off furniture are not.

Adequate preparation for the delivery includes alerting your veterinarian in advance. Your pet may need professional help if the expectant mother is a boxer, St. Bernard or other breed noted for large head conformation. It is not uncommon for a puppy with a large head to become lodged in the birth canal, blocking the passage for the entire litter.

There are also cases where selective breeding has reduced the size of the adult animal, preventing the young from passing through the pelvic arch. Small breeds such as the dachshund, chihuahua, or toy poodle are prone to this condition, which may require your veterinarian to perform a Caesarian section.

The average canine pregnancy lasts approximately nine weeks. You should be ready for the litter to arrive any time between the 60th through the 65th day.

Deliveries do not follow any set pattern. Puppies may arrive ten minutes apart, or sixty minutes apart. Whatever the case, if your pet has not had her offspring after five or six hours of continuous labor, she needs professional help.

Once a puppy is delivered, the mother will immediately tear open with her teeth the sac enclosing her pup, thus allowing it to breathe. The mother will also lick her offspring clean, providing a rough massage at the same time. The massage stimulates the circulation and helps warm the puppy.

Sometimes the mother may become dazed or deliver too rapidly to handle all her puppies. Then it is up to the owner to administer primary care to some of the newborn. After the puppy's mouth and nose are cleared of mucus, the umbilical cord should be cut an inch or two from the puppy and a knot tied near the base of the cord with thread or dental floss. After the puppy is dried gently with a towel, it can be returned to the mother.

Occasionally a puppy fails to start breathing immediately on birth. If this happens, provide massage with a towel, then swing the puppy gently, head downward to try to clear air passages. Often it is necessary to work on the puppy for several minutes before it begins breathing.

As the puppies arrive, make sure you note the delivery of one afterbirth per pup. Retained afterbirths can be the source of serious infections in the uterus, so they should all be accounted for.

After the puppies are delivered, and wet bedding is removed, place them along the side of their mother so they can begin nursing. If the litter is large, check that each pup has its own nursing station. Puppies that the mother cannot accommodate should be fed every four hours with a preparation recommended by your veterinarian. Hand-fed puppies must have their lower abdomen massaged gently a few minutes after each feeding to stimulate elimination and keep the bowels open.

Chaplain Gets 5-0 Role

Bob Turnbull, a native of Lemon Grove and internationally known as The Chaplain of Waikiki Beach, recently completed a role as a U. S. Navy Captain in the "To Kill A Mind" segment of the popular CBS teleseries, HAWAII 5-0.

Portraying Captain Peter Morelli, the captain of a U. S. Navy Salvage ship, Turnbull has his scenes with "Danny," portrayed by actor James MacArthur.

This is Turbull's seventh 5-0 show.

Teaching Aide Classes

An in-service course for volunteer teaching aides is being offered at 4:30 p.m. each Monday and Wednesday through December 15 at the Alpine Elementary School in Alpine.

The seven-session course will cover methods of dealing with adults, children and equipment. Actual practice with audio-visual equipment will be provided, as well as information designed to insure success in dealing with youngsters.

There is no registration fee, and all enrollment and registration procedures may be completed at the first meeting of the class.

Honour thy father and mother; which is the first commandment with promise;
That it may be well with thee, and thou mayest live long on the earth.

State 'Squawk' Center Aids Unwary Mobilehome Buyers

Mobilehome buyers who sign on the dotted line first and learn the law later could be risking their down payment money unnecessarily, according to Department of Motor Vehicles Director Herman Sillas.

DMV's Division of Compliance has operated a Mobilehome Complaint Center since July in conjunction with the Department of Housing and Community Development. Owners and prospective buyers of mobilehomes may call the center toll-free at 1-800-952-5275 Monday through Friday between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

"The center handles about 1,200 calls and some 200 written complaints every month," Sillas said. "Those complaints have revealed that people often sign a sales contract without full knowledge of their rights under California's escrow law."

Such a lack of knowledge, Sillas said, often costs buyers their downpayment dollars.

John Holmes, who heads the department's consumer-protection arm — the Division of Compliance — explained that a state law in effect since July 1, 1975 requires mobilehome dealers to deposit in an escrow account all cash or cash equivalent paid before delivery.

The escrow requirement does not apply to the sale of a used mobilehome when it is located on the occupancy site and the buyer receives delivery within two days.

Funds placed in escrow must remain untouched until the mobilehome is installed on the buyer's lot and inspected by a local building inspector or an inspector from the State Department of Housing.

"If the mobilehome is not delivered within 120 days of the sales contract date, then all monies must be returned to the buyers," Holmes said. The 120-day limit can be extended only by mutual written agreement for 30-day increments.

He advised all mobilehome buyers to check their copy of the sales contract against the escrow documents to be sure all money given the dealer were deposited in escrow.

"If you believe the dealer has not followed the escrow law, then you may want to contact the Mobilehome Complaint Center," Holmes said.

DMV is involved through the licensing of mobilehome dealers, salespersons, manufacturers, and manufacturers' representatives. Mobilehomes are classified as vehicles and therefore registered by DMV.

Tell It to Grandma

By Edith Macias

Now don't get any funny notions that I am old and feeble. Could be but I'm not admittin' anything. I'm really not old — I've just been here a long time and have learned quite a lot . . . Not the least of which is that just about everybody enjoys the cute things kids say, and having harvested a few "jewels" from that field, thought I would pass them on.

Example; a Texas friend reported that her little boy, visiting his grandmother, was playing with the kids next door. They had a little dispute, as kids will, and the other little boy call Joe a dirty name. Grandmother was shocked beyound belief at such a little guy talking that way, and when my friend returned she told her about it. Her grandson was right there so she couldn't repeat the words so she said "Robert called Joe an 'S.O.B.' "

When Joe got home he told his Dad, "Robert called me an 'A.B.C.' ".

I guess that makes sense. Being a pre-schooler he knew it was letters and 'A.B.C.' were the letters he knew!

Not A Cat

Then here in Spring Valley, Grandpa had finished mowing the lawn, and with grass-clippings piled high on the wheelbarrow, he asked his little granddaughter if she wanted to ride to the back yard. She looked up at the high mound of grass. To her, it must have looked as high as Mt. Helix. She said, "Way up there, Grandpa?" He said "Sure! What are you . . . A scaredy cat?" Looking doubtful she replied, "I'm a 'scaredy' but I'm not a cat!"

I got a real kick out of a statement made by a four-year-old at his uncle's wedding. He was quite puzzled by the whole thing. He couldn't understand what a wedding was all about. His mother tried to help by saying that after the wedding, Uncle Bob would belong to Aunt Jan and Aunt Jan would belong to Uncle Bob. It seemed clear enough. The four-year-old watched quietly as his father performed his duty as best man. Then tearfully he asked his Mother, "Does Daddy belong to us?"

I guess to him, a wedding made everyone involved "belong" to someone else.

His dad was part of the wedding so he thought he had lost him for sure! That would have been a shame, for the little guy worshipped his dad.

He remarked once that the three best men in the world were "Jesus, Santa Claus and my Daddy". I told his dad he was really getting 'up there' to be in company like that!

So, why didn't I write about the cute remark your little Bobby or Susie made? Only because I didn't hear about it yet! Why don't you take a minute and send it to me? Or call and tell me all about it. Then we can all enjoy it. Okay? There is nothing cuter than some of the things we hear "from the mouths of babes . . ."

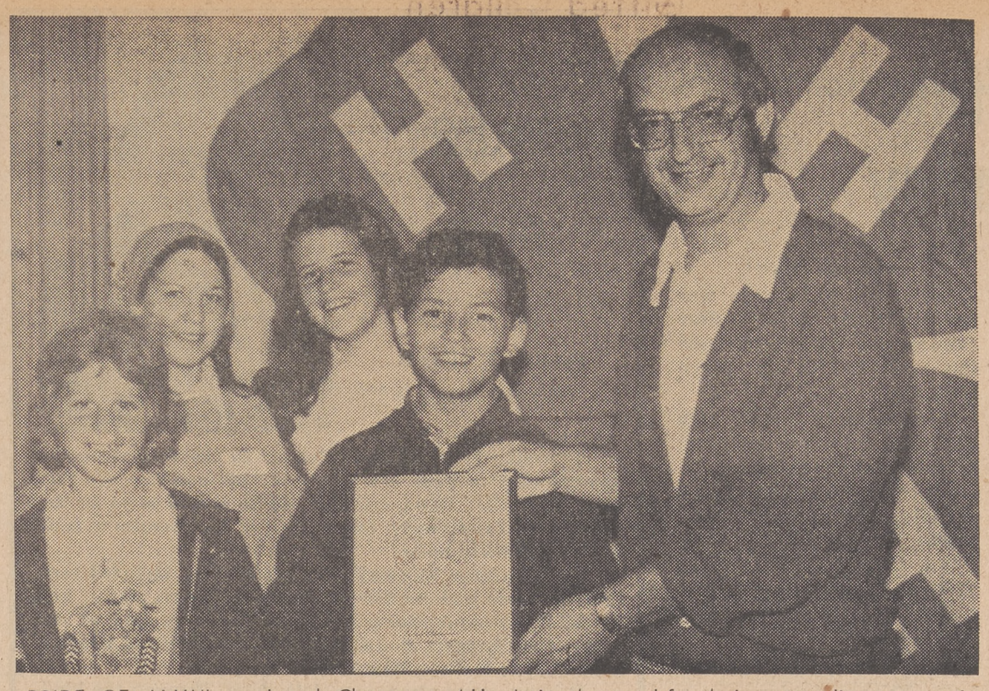
Open House Today

An Open House ceremony is scheduled today by the Mexican-American Opportunity Foundation's On the Job Training facility at 2051 Commercial st. in San Diego.

The ceremony starts at 11 a.m. with refreshments with the official ceremony planned for noon.

EAGLE SCOUT—Brad Compton, 18, of Spring Valley was awarded the rank of Eagle Scout last week by Scoutmaster Richard Sheaffer of Lemon Grove Troop 322.

The Mt. Miguel senior has been active in scouting since 1972 and has also been a member of Explorer Post 376 of Lemon Grove. Compton earned 24 merit badges to qualify for the rank which was conferred during ceremonies at V.F.W. Post 2082, the sponsor of Troop 322.



PRIDE OF JAMUL — Jamul Chaparros 4-H Club received a special award from Bill Steele of Standard Oil Company of California at the Community Pride Conference held October 23-24 at USC's Idyllwild campus. The club is being honored for their outstanding community action project. Club members receiving the award are (l-r) Keith Shelton, Sheri Snively, Kelli Shelton, Mark Nierodzinski and Steele.

Younger Answers Common Queries On Tenant-Landlord Relationship

Note to readers: Once a month, the Office of State Attorney General Evelle J. Younger presents this special report detailing activities of interest to California consumers.

Comments are appreciated. Please write: State Attorney General's Consumer File, 3580 Wilshire blvd. (Suite 800), L.A. CA 90010.

This column poses a series of questions and answers concerning problems between tenant and landlord. The answers must, of necessity, be general in content, and are offered for information only.

Q. — What types of deposits are there in California?

A. — Security and cleaning deposits are an area of wide dispute between landlord and tenant, and the first thing to do when moving into a rented dwelling is to find out and put down in writing the type of deposit.

A bonus-type deposit is given to the landlord to hold a dwelling unit, and may not be returned unless otherwise agreed upon.

A cleaning deposit is put down and held to pay for any cleaning that may have to be done after the tenant moves. However, any part of this deposit not used to clean the dwelling is subject to return to the tenant.

A security deposit can be used for only three reasons:

1. If the tenant is behind in his rent, the landlord may apply that deposit to cover back rent.

2. This deposit may also be used to pay for any damage to premises caused by the tenant or guests.

3. This type of deposit may also be used for cleaning if the cleaning deposit does not sufficiently cover cleaning costs.

Any sum of money remaining after the security deposit is applied to such conditions must be returned to the tenant; both the security and cleaning deposits should be returned within two weeks after the tenant has moved or been evicted.

Q. — What can a tenant do about getting these deposits back at the end of the rental agreement?

A. — Retention of security deposits by the landlord, when he should have returned the money, is shown as "bad faith retention," and may subject him to punitive damages not exceeding $200, as well as actual damages.

In order to reclaim the deposits, tenants may have to go to either Small Claims Court if the amount is under $500) or Municipal Court.

No lawyers can be used by either side in Small Claims Court, but in the other court lawyers may be used. Obviously, Small Claims Court is cheaper.

Q. — What type of notice must a tenant give before he moves?

A. — Written notice must always be given in advance; oral notice is not legally enough even if you have an oral rental agreement.

If you don't give proper written notice, you may have to pay additional rent. Normally, if you pay rent monthly, you should give written notice that you intend to move 30 days in advance.

However, it is impossible for you and the landlord, at the time you move in, to agree to a shorter notice period, but it must be at least seven days.

Q. — What type of notice must a landlord give before he can raise the rent?

A. — In a rental agreement the landlord can raise your rent any amount if he gives written notice. The length of notice time must be at least as long as the period between your rental payments.

Q. — Can a landlord enter a tenant's apartment at will?

A. — Tenants have a basic right of privacy which should be respected.

As of January 1, landlords may enter dwelling units only in cases of emergency; to make necessary or agreed repairs, etc.; when you have abandoned or given up the premises; or as a result of a court order.

If your right to privacy is seriously violated, you may have the basis for a lawsuit. You might also wish to notify your local law enforcement agency when the violation occurs. While they often will not take direct action, your report can help document a complaint if you take your case to court.

Recent consumer protection cases filed by the State Attorney General's Office include the following:

TALENT AGENCIES — Talent agents from five firms were ordered to pay a total of $40,000 in refunds to their clients who were misled into believing they would get jobs in motion pictures, television, advertising and modeling.

If the refunds are not paid by August 1, 1980, the individuals named in the suit (Alan Kapilow, Michael Ferrone, Philip Presley and Robert E. Cressy) face a quarter of a million dollar penalty.

Michael Degnan, doing business as Wesley Dana Agency, was ordered to pay a $5,000 civil penalty.

The firms involved in the L.A. County Superior Court litigation, in addition to Dana, include Youth Management Corporation, Warren Management, Inc., First Step Public Relations and Trident Agency, Inc.

Persons who paid money to any of the five firms can request restitution by writing to: Consumer Protection Unit, State Attorney General's Office, 3580 Wilshire blvd., L.A. 90010.

If the total amount of refunds due is more than $40,000, those who qualify will receive a pro-rata share.

COUPON BOOK SALES — Four companies and four officials were charged in a complaint filed in Los Angeles County Superior Court with making misrepresentations in connection with the sale of discount coupon books offering a variety of services.

It was claimed that Better Buyers Club of America, Trans-America Marketing and Trans-America Graphics Co., all of Beverly Hills, and Educational Achievement Foundation, El Monte, promised the public that high incomes could be obtained without any selling activity for an investment of $2,000.

Also named in the suit were Arthur Findley, Herbert Schachter, William Dowdall and Kenneth Jenkins.

The State Attorney General asked for an injunction and assessment of $2,500 for each violation of law proved.

ELECTRONIC IGNITIONS — Challenge Electronics, Pomona, and the firm's owner, Guy Stark, have been charged with either failing to deliver or unduly delaying delivery of electronic ignitions without making refunds.

The complaint charges misrepresentation and failure to honor warranties. The suit seeks refunds for customers and assessment of $2,500 for each misleading advertisement and each unfair or unlawful business practice.

This Week's RECIPE

Old-Fashioned Popovers

Remember the rolls and bread grandmother used to bake? Now you can make them too! There's nothing "old-fashioned" about the old-fashioned flavor of steamy hot popovers straight from the oven. They're quick and simple to make and have a melt-in-the-mouth taste reminiscent of grandma's home baked breads.

POPOVERS

½ cup milk
1 tbsp. melted margarine
1 egg
½ cup flour
¼ tsp. salt

In mixing bowl, combine ingredients in order listed above. Beat with rotary beater just until smooth. Fill well-greased 5-oz. custard cups half full of batter.

Bake at 425°F for 15 minutes, then reduce heat to 350°F and bake about 15 minutes longer. Remove from custard cups at once and make small slit in side of each popover to allow steam to escape. Serve hot.

Note: A muffin pan or popover pan may be substituted for custard cups. Yield varies with size of pan.

3 Here Win Awards At San Diego State

Three local persons are among 68 staff employees of the S.D. State U who received length-of-service awards at a luncheon Tuesday.

They are Dorothy Fitzgerald, of 1582 Drexel dr., Lemon Grove with 15 years of service; Cyrus W. Stephens of 3253 S. Bonita st., Spring Valley, 15 years and Lee Scarlett, 9200 Brookside Circle, Spring Valley, 10 years.

SDSU President Brage Golden presented the awards. Dr. Marjorie Downing Wagner, vice chancellor, faculty and staff affairs of California State University and College was keynote speaker.

'Catch 22' Staged

"Catch 22", a two-act comedy, will be presented Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the Genesis Theatre in the Ben Polak Memorial Theatre.

Curtain is 8 p.m. Reservations may be made at 461-8255.

Tickets are $3 for adults and $2 for students and seniors.

Week for Teen Challenge

Teen Challenge Week is being observed this week to increase public awareness of the non-profit program to help rehabilitate young drug abusers.

Teen Challenge has worked four years in San Diego County, giving drug education presentations to more than 180,000 people.

4-6 to Meet 2-8 in Buffalo For AFL Cellar Play Sunday

The San Diego Chargers take a sentimental journey to Buffalo this week.

Once proud rivals or AFL titles, the Chargers and Buffalo Bills collide Sunday at Rich Stadium as strangers. The Chargers have not played in Buffalo since 1968. The last game between the teams was in San Diego in 1973. Kickoff Sunday is 10 a.m. San Diego time.

Both teams have seen their once-promising 1976 fortunes nosedive. San Diego is 4-6 and has lost four in a row. Buffalo is 2-8 and has lost six in a row.

In the 1968 game, a week's accumulation of snow had turned the field at Buffalo's War Memorial Stadium into a sea of mud which resembled trenches of World War I. Without an able-bodied quarterback, the Bills used a spunky little flanker, Ed Rutkowski, as a single wing tailback.

The Chargers won the game, 21-6, with John Hadl passing for two touchdowns to tight end Jacque MacKinnon. The victory raised San Diego's record to 8-2, but proved costly. Several Chargers were stricken with flu. The team returned home to be thrashed by the New York Jets, 37-15, and the season ended 9-5.

Only two Chargers played in the Buffalo game who will play Sunday. Russ Washington was a rookie defnsive tackle. The other was defensive back Jim Tolbert, who the Chargers reacquired last week. No one remains for the Bills except Rutkowski, now a team broadcaster.

Weather shouldn't matter much Sunday. There is artificial turf at the 80,020-seat Rich Stadium, which became the home of the Bills in 1973.

San Diego has faced O. J. Simpson three times. The noble Trojan was 7-for-27 yards in 1969, 18-for-106 in 1971 and 22-for-193 in 1973. His longest run against San Diego is 28 yards. Simpson is approaching top form as the season winds down.

Double Zip

Last week San Diego was handcuffed by the Denver Broncos for the second time this year, 17-0, at San Diego Stadium.

The Chargers limited Otis Armstrong to 35 yards and the Bronco running attack to 61 yards, but could gain only 33 yards on the ground themselves.

Dan Fouts completed 12 of 22 passes for 120 yards and Charlie Joiner caught three for 59 yards.

Charger defensive tackle Louis Kelcher continues as a standout. The big man of the defense at 6-foot-5, 282 pounds has been a constantly excellent player for the Chargers.

Against Denver Sunday, he made 10 tackles, eight unassisted; sacked the quarterback once, batted down two passes and recovered one fumble. Through 10 games, he leads Charger linemen with 70 tackles, 42 unassisted, and six QB sacks.

"Louie has played good football all of the year," said San Diego defensive line coach Rudy Feldman. "He has improved on his pass rush a great deal from 1975. Each week he gains from experience. I feel he is one of the outstanding defensive tackles in professional football."

An all-NFL rookie in 1975 as a No. 2 draft choice from SMU, Kelcher disclaims interest in personal achievements. Said Louie, "I just try to do mp job the best I can."

The game will be telecast on KGTV. Many listeners are watching the television picture but listening to the voice of Hope Hines and Tommy Mason on KSDO. It makes a game for watchers.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

Traveling is an intrinsic element in the very nature of professional football. It's a fact of this nomadic life that one must visit another if the call to action is to be answered, and conversely, one must host his enemies to commit hostilities at home.

The Chargers itinerary, this season, has included such garden spots and tourist pleasures as Tokyo, Japan and Honolulu, Hawaii. Going down to the other end of the scale, the Chargers find themselves this weekend winging their way to Buffalo, New York.

It is my great pleasure to join them. Through the kindness of owner Gene Klein and general manager Johnny Sanders and the good offices of public relations director Jerry Wynn, this portable pounder has been invited to join the proceedings. The offer was accepted quicker than the ink could dry on the words. They thought I was nuts, but they humored me.

Now, certainly, one never goes to Buffalo without good reason, especially in late fall. It is not only cold, frosty and freezing this end of the year in Buffalo, but it has also been known to snow a blinding Siberian storm that covers the earth with glacial numbness in less time than it takes quick fingers to play the minute waltz.

One does not go to Buffalo lightly. Along with original sin, I suffered birth there on the shores of Lake Erie and my kin still shiver and shudder through winters there. A lesser call than a visit with aging parents would probably go unheeded anytime halfpast October.

It was with great anticipation the problem of packing was reviewed. Memories invoke a need for fur parka, seal skin boots and arctic survival kits. A main item, of course, was galoshes. But where on earth in San Diego would you find them?

A call to several department stores gave little hope. Three said no, one said in the catalog but they needed 10 days mailing time and another said their deli didn't carry Polish dishes.

So much for the overshoes. I compromised on extra socks and a pair of non-skid hiking boots.

My dear wife, blessed lady that she is, also remembers Buffalo as her growing up place and offered to help pack. She spent three hours trying to stuff 47 sweaters into a small overnight case.

"You can't have too many sweaters in Buffalo," she said, grimly pushing and shoving a mountain of material into a small case.

A three day search was undertaken for a fur hat purchased as a lark on visit to Japan in the closing days of my Naval service. After much peeking and probing the fur hat was found in a box marked "fur hat" on the shelf of the closet in our bedroom.

During all this hubbub a study of the Buffalo football team seemed in order. One certainly does not go to Buffalo to lose.

And the Bills give evidence of being no soft touch. They have O. J. Simpson on offense and they blitz on defense. Neither of which is easy for the Chargers to contain.

The Bills got a bad start this year, first with the attempted mutiny of O. J. who sought smoother sailing in the sun of Los Angeles; then with the desertion of head coach Lou Saban to the quiet of a college campus and a non-football job.

The Bills are last in the American East Conference with a 2-8 record and they haven't won for a new head mentor Jim Ringo. But they don't play like that. Monday last the Bills all but upset Dallas, the winningest team in the Natioinal Conference. Only Oakland is Dallas' equal with a 9-1 mark. And the Bills were just a TD away and in the game all the way. After such a loss, you know the Bills are laying for the Chargers.

They need the win perhaps even more than the Chargers. The Bills come back with their third game in 10 days against the Lions at Detroit on Thanksgiving, then visit Miami and Baltimore to close out their season.

Tommy Prothro's pachyderms, meanwhile, have lost four straight and there is anger in their mood and revenge in their souls. Oh, how they need a victory. And with the 49ers and Oakland still to go, they need it now.

Galoshless, but with 47 sweaters, I'm gonna be there for collision.

Tag Team Title Match Scheduled

It was an unusual match—even for wrestling.

Roddy Piper and Chevo Guererro, each owning the belt of a champion, were engaged in a Mexican Death Match in which there is no time limit; no disqualification, and few rules.

The men had left their silver-adorned belts with the timekeepr at ringside. Piper managed to get to his when the going got tough and slashed Guererro over the head. Chavo bled profusely but stayed on to win.

During the match Guererro was illegally aided by Butcher Vachon while The Hangman came to the aid of Piper. At one time all four were involved.

Which brings up the card for Tuesday night at the Coliseum, 15th and E sts., in downtown San Diego.

Chavo Guererro and Butcher Vachon engage in a title tag team match against Roddy Piper and The Hangman.

In addition, there will be a steel-cage match. The 8-foot high cage is open at the top which provides the only means of escape. The escapee is the winner. Raul Mata and Ken Mantell are the opponents.

Action starts at 8.

Gene Tenace Joins Padres On Multi-Year Contract

The San Diego Padres have signed free agent Gene Tenace to a multi-year contract.

Padres Director of Player Personnel Bob Fontaine made the announcement at the weekly meting of Sportscasters/Sportswriters Assn. Tuesday.

The 30-year-old Tenace was the Padres No. 3 choice in the recent Re-entry Draft after having completed his contractual obligations to the Oakland A's. Tenace, who split his playing time with Oakland almost evenly between catcher and first base, hit .249 for the A's with 19 doubles, 22 home runs and 66 runs batted in.

A member of the Oakland A's since 1969, Tenace carries an eight-year career batting mark of .245 with 603 hits plus 89 doubles, seven triples, 121 home runs and 389 runs batted in.

"Of course, we are very happy to have been able to agree to terms with Gene," said Padres President Buzzie Bavasi. "We were able to reach an agreement with Gene and his agent Jerry Kapstein that is certainly fair to them and something that we can live with as a ball club.

"We believe that he will be a fine addition not only to the San Diego Padres ball club, but also to the community as well," continued Bavasi, "as he's a truly fine individual."

His best full season was 1973 when he hit .259, but his most productive year was 1975 when he recorded personal highs of 29 home runs and 87 RBI.

"This is what we are after more than anything else," said Bavasi. ". . . a little more offensive punch. In the past four years Gene has averaged almost 25 home runs and close to 80 runs batted in. Nobody on our club at present can match that type of power output over the past few seasons. We felt that getting more firepower into the lineup was a must and this should go a long way towards solving our problem."

Houston Howes Here For Mariner Match-up

The San Diego Mariners attempt to gain valuable ground as they reach the first quarter of their WHA season this week with a pair of Sports Arena games.

The Mariners host Western Division rivals Houston, Friday at 7 p.m. San Diego then travels to Birmingham, Sunday.

All women at Friday's match will receive a coupon for a free can of tuna and all fans are eligible for other prizes — compliments of Carnation Tuna Co.

Houston took a 4-1 decision from San Diego last week in the Texans' rink in the first of ten matches this season. Aero mentor Bill Dineen has a balanced attack that combines youth with experience and has one of the WHA's finest goaltending tandems in Ron Grahame and Wayne Rutledge.

The Howes of Houston

The Howes of Houston are worth reams of publicity but not just because they are the only father-sons group in professional sports.

Father Gordie is pro hockey's all-time scoring and penalty minute leader and one of the greatest legends in sports lore. Annual rumors of his retirement are lost a few months later in his scoring exploits, as witnessed by his total of 102 points last season, good for ninth place in final individual WHA standings.

Son Mark is a 21-year-old left winger who has become the youngest player in league history to score over 100 career goals. Son Marty, 22, is a defenseman who didn't play full-time hockey until high school but still rates as one of the game's most solid blue liners in addition to be an adept puck carrier and scorer.

San Diego may be hampered by injuries to two players. Winger Gerry Pinder suffered a bruised wrist during last week's three-game junket but is expected to be ready while winger John French, who stayed home while nursing rib and shoulder hurts, will skate in practice sessions before Ingram makes a determination on his capabilities.

Aztecs Face Tough 49'rs In Long Beach Saturday

The S.D. State U. football team plans to have its best offensive weapons on the field for the first time in five weeks when the team travels to Veteran's Stadium to meet Long Beach Saturday at 7:30 p.m.

Aztec coach Claude Gilbert is hopeful that his two top weapons, tailback David (Deacon) Turner and Ollie Brown will both be healthy for the first time since the Pacific game five weeks ago.

Brown has been cleared to play, but Turner's status will not be determined until Thursday.

Turner has gained 706 yards on 126 carries for an average of 5.6 yards.. He was ranked second in the nation in rushing before he was sidelined by a nagging groin pull. Brown, who has picked up 399 yards on 85 carries, took over for Turner but Brown pulled a hamstring in the Fullerton State game three weeks ago.

In the absence of Turner and Brown, Binky Benton was moved from fullback to tailback and upped his rushing figures to 471 yards on 10 carries.

"We're going to need all the offense we can muster against Long Beach State," Gilbert said. "They have a very fine football team and they'll be coming after us in front of a very hostile hometown crowd. We'll have to play much better than we did against Utah State or we're in for a long night."

Menees Looks Bright As Future Padres Star

Final statistics from the Arizona Instructional League and, the Padres, although placing only third in the loop standings, had two of the top eight hitters in the circuit in Henry Menees and Bill Hallstrom.

Menees, an infielder from Vanderbilt University, completed the season with a fine .368 average, second best in the A.I.L., while Hallstrom, a converted infielder now in the outfield, was eighth at .319. Actually, the Padres had three men over the .300 barrier with Harold Drake at .310.

Some of the other top marks turned in were .275 by catcher Tony Castillo and a .264 by catcher-outfielder Craig Stimac.

In the pitching department, the Padres had a league-leader in relief specialist Mark Lee who recorded six saves to tie for first with Monroe Greenfield of the San Francisco Giants. Lee's overall mark was 1-3, but his 1.62 earned run average was among the best in the league.

Top performer for the club was Bob Shirley who fashioned a 3-1, 1.76 record in 10 outings while Don Alfano, Bobby Joe Dupree and Dan Keen also chalked up three wins apiece.

RoC Hoop Team Here Wednesday For Free Admission Game at USD

The Republic of China (Taiwan) National Men's basketball team visits San Diego on Wednesday when the USD Toreros host them in an 8 p.m. game in the USD Gymnasium.

Leading scorers for Taiwan are guard Hung Chun-che and forward Yeh Cheng.

The RoC has held tours of the USA before and holds an 84-22 won/lost record against American teams.

USD announced that there will be no admission charge to the game to allow as many people as possible to see the Taiwan team. It is the same team that was held out of Olympic competition at Montreal.

The Torero basketball team is almost back to full strength following some minor injuries during pre-season practice. During practice scrimmages there seem to be 10-12 players who will see plenty of playing time. Coach Jim Brovelli will play as many fresh players as possible during the season, much like NBA teams are now doing.

S.D. Sharks Rack Up Fourth Straight Win

The San Diego Sharks held back a late West Covina rally to defeat the Flying Eagles 5-4 in a Hockey game Sunday evening at the House of Ice.

The Sharks took a 5-0 lead early in the second period behind two goals by team captain Sandy Fitzpatrick and single tallies by Willie O'Ree, Brian Morenz and Grant Albright. However, the Eagles came back with three second period scores of their own and another goal in the third period to make the game close.

Goalie Russ Gillow turned aside 37 shots to help the Sharks improve their record to 4-0 on the young season.

San Diego returns to action Sunday, against the L.A. Bruins. Gametime is 7 p.m. and tickets are $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for youngsters 16 years of ago and under and senior citizens 60 and over.

The Sharks have now outscored their opponents 32-16 in winning their first four games of the season. Willie O'Ree leads the Sharks with 7 goals followed by Brian Morenz with 6 and Sandy Fitzpatrick 4 goals.

Grid Griffs Eye 2nd. SCC Place

Saturday's 32-21 victory over San Diego Mesa College in last Saturday's Third Annual Toys for Tots Charity Football Bowl game, gives Grossmont College a chance to grab a share of second place in the South Coast Conference standings.

The Griffins are 2-3 in SCC action and 5-4 for the season. Only one game separates six of the conference's seven teams as Mesa, Santa Ana and Cerritos all boast 2-3 SCC marks.

Orange Coast, the defending National JC champion, is 3-2 in SCC play and 5-4 for the season. The Griffins will be closing out their 1976 season Saturday night at 7:30 against the Pirates in Costa Mesa.

The Griffins have beaten Orange Coast only one time in the six meetings between the two clubs. That came in the state championship game of 1974 when Grossmont pulled out a 34-17 win. The Pirates won last year, 42-16.

In last week's win over Mesa — the first in eight tries by a Griffin football team — sophomore quarterback Jim Freitas clicked on 22 of 34 passes for 240 yards and five touchdowns. He now has made good on 129 of 229 passes for 1,624 yards and 16 touchdowns.

Saturday's heroes also included wide receivers Mitch Bonilla and Kerry Schimpf. Bonilla collected nine passes for 86 yards, while Schimpf latched on to seven for 83 yards. Both scored two touchdowns.

The Griffins piled up 397 yards total offense against Mesa, while the Olympians were gaining 375 yards against Grossmont's defense.

Field Hockey Loses

For the second consecutive year S.D. State U's field hockey team traveled to Stanford for the Region 8 Championships, and for the second consecutive year the Aztec women failed to qualify.

The Aztecs came extremely close to qualifying for a national spot, only to finish third in the regionals and again have to "wait until next year."

Griff Cagers Tipoff Against Alumni Friday

Grossmont College will tipoff its 1976-77 basketball season Friday night at 7:30 when the Griffins face an Alumni team.

The Griffins figure to be a fine shooting team, but rebounding could be a problem. Defensively, the Griffs should hold their own with almost anyone.

The Griffins will officially begin play November 26 by hosting Mira Costa College at 8:30 p.m. They'll then play Saddleback on the 27 at 8:30 p.m. in Mission Viejo.

New Manager for L.G.'SD T&S Bank

John R. Nersesian has been named manager of the Lemon Grove Office of San Diego Trust & Savings Bank by president Thomas W. Sefton.

Nersesian is from Highland Park, Michigan and was graduated from Cal. State U. at Fresno and he has also done graduate work at S.D. State U.

Nersesian has served as loan officer for the bank's main office and as assistant manager for the East El Cajon Valley and San Carlos offices. Most recently, he served as assistant manager of San Diego Trust's Park West Office.

USAC Midget 'Prix' Returns to Gardena

GARDENA—With 40 prominent race drivers already on hand for this week's U.S. Auto club sprint-car races, at least 75 starters are now expected for the 36th running of the 100-lap Turkey Night USAC Midget Grand Prix next week.

Many drivers who came West for the 4-car sprint-race series are remaining for the midget event, which is being returned to Ascot after a year's absence.

All-time winner Mel Kenyn, Gary Bettenhausen, and Bill Englehart is each trying to become the first three-time Turkey-Night champion. Nine drivers have won the event twice in its long history including, A. J. Foyt and Parnelli Jones, but there hasn't been a three-time champion.

While awaiting Turkey Night, USAC sprint-car stars will compete in their second Ascot race Saturday night and at San Jose Sunday afternoon.

An unusual doubleheader will also appear on the Ascot card in the coming week.

The NMRA three-quarter midgets will race their Grand Prix in conjunction with the weekly Figure-8 races Sunday November 21st.

Sprint Cars Move To San Jose Track

Duane "Pancho" Carter, winner of 12 USAC National Championship Sprint-Car features already this year, heads a list of five drivers signed by J. C. Agajanian for his first USAC National Championship Sprint Car races at the San Jose Speedway on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

The 26-year-old second-generation speedway star who finished fifth in this year's rain-shortened Indianapolis 500 driving Dan Gurney's Jorgenson Steele Eagle, has already wrapped up his second USAC National Sprint-Car crown, but he will be out to set a new all-time point high for a season, and break the tie between himself and the three-time USAC sprint-car champion Larry Dickson of 12 wins in one year.

Over 40 of the nation's top drivers will be on hand for the $7,500 sweepstakes on the 1/3rd-mile paved oval. The top 20 drivers will start the 40-lap main event. Other racing includes four eight-lap heat races, and a 10-lap semi-final.

Baseball Players Top HoC Choices

Major league baseball players from the San Diego area dominated the balloting but had to share some of the honors with one footballer as four professional athletes were selected October Stars of the Month by the Hall of Champions Breitbard Awards Committee.

Getting the nod from sizeable lineup of nominees were Bob Boone, Chris Chamblis and Graig Nettles, all of whom figured in the major league playoffs, and Charlie Joiner, pass-catching wizard of the San Diego Chargers.

There also was special recognition for two other diamond artists, one to Randy Jones, Padre southpaw pitching ace, for winning the National League's prized Cy Young Award and the other to his teammate, Butch Metzger, who was named the league's Rookie Pitcher of the Year by a poll of players in the circuit.

Boone, a Crawford High graduate and son of Hall of Famer Ray "Ike" Boone, capped a fine season as a catcher for Philadelphia by being picked over Cincinnati's Johnny Bench for the National League All-Star team by U.P.I.

New York Yankee first baseman Chambliss, a product of Mira Mesa JC, wound up with a .293 average, had 17 HR's and 96 RBI's and belted a memorable 9th inning home run to win the fifth playoff game, sending his team into the World Series.

A former S.D. State student, Nettles, also figured prominently in the Yankee fortunes, leading the American League in home runs with 32 and being named Player of the Week for September 27.

During October Joiner established himself as one of pro football's best wide receivers when he caught 21 passes for 510 yards and two touchdowns. That brought his two-months' totals for the campaign to 33 receptions, 763 yards, four touchdowns and an average of 23.1 yards per catch, tops in the NFL.

Bargaining Slow-Moving for LG Teachers

By John Kowalczyk

Spawned by new collective bargaining legislation this fiscal year, most California school districts are busily negotiating new contracts with their employees..

A sweeter salary and benefit package has become the object of both teachers and non-academic groups during this first year under the new bargaining relationship.

The new legislation—SB 160—was adopted to provide a uniform method of bargaining in school systems in the state. Affected are school districts from elementary through junior college in California.

Lemon Grove and Spring Valley elementary and junior high schools are no exception with teacher bargaining teams seeking contract settlements within the two elementary and junior high school districts serving the area.

Closest to a settlement is the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District which, according to Asst. Supt. Tom Vandruff, has tentatively agreed with teachers on a 4 per cent salary increase and is presently ironing out differences on two items — binding arbitration and organizational security clauses.

Other matters said to be more or less settled include a 0.7 per cent increase in insurance benefits, a 0.8 per cent boost in retirement fund contributions and a 2 per cent rise in automatic salary step increases, Vandruff said. Percentages indicate increased costs to the district.

Classified employees have not settled on an exclusive bargaining agent, a prerequisite to negotiations under terms of SB 160.

Not So Rosey

Things are not so rosey in the Lemon Grove School District where teachers have made little progress toward settling with the school district's negotiator.

As the December 30 deadline for ratifying a retroactive salary agreement nears, teachers are getting restless about a lack of progress in bargaining sessions.

Classified personnel — including non-academic employees and a few special instructional people — settled on a small salary increase this summer without controversy.

Teachers, represented by the Lemon Grove Teachers Association Bargaining Team, dispensed a flyer last week which alleges lack of cooperation on the part of the district's negotiator who was hired this summer to represent the school district in bargaining talks.

The School Board, citing a need for professional consultation to handle a broad-ranging contract proposal from teachers, okayed spending $4300 for the services of a negotiator furnished by the California School Board Association.

The woman who represents the district provides similar services for a San Ysidro school district and other districts in the state.

Teachers complain that the hired negotiator refuses to be flexible on certain aspects of their proposal, that she is avoiding salary talks until other areas are settled, that release time (from regular classroom duties) granted by the district is being manipulated to pressure teachers into a settlement and that the retroactive pay deadline is being applied as further pressure to settle.

The LG School Board prepared a written reply to the bargaining team flyer last week in which these and other complaints are answered.

Among the Board's comments are:

- Progressing from non-salary to salary items is traditional and the most expedient way to handle negotiations.
- To date, ten days release time have been granted to a three-person negotiation team (total 30 days off with pay). More days could be provided and considerably more release time might be available if LGTA Chairman Dick Stowers agreed to negotiate without two observers, as has apparently been the case thus far.

The Board's counterproposal for teachers agrees to allow a "sufficient number of hours per week release time without loss of compensation" to two delegated representatives.

Teachers, in their original proposal request eight be given release time.

How Big Is Too Big?

Another sore spot is class size. While teachers have asked for a provision to set a 30-student limit on any class size in K-6 classes, 26 in combination grade classes and 32 in junior high classes (gym and special classes excepted), district administratiors say such hard and fast upper limits aren't economically feasible.

School Supt. Bob Sutton said the proposal as outlined in the teachers' version of their 1976-77 contract would require a new teacher at every school.

Acting Supt. Jim Justeson explained that school systems are penalized when a class of more than 32 students continues for more than a specified number of weeks.

During that grace time, the district is allowed to make reassignments to change class loads to avoid state funding penalties.

The LGTA literature indicates that teachers have abandoned their original request that "at no time" shall a class exceed their proposed limits.

Salary Perspective

Adding spice to the bargaining, the district shows statistics which shed light on the present salary schedule for Lemon Grove teachers.

During the last four years teachers' salaries have been above or near state averages. Last year, the average teacher earned $15,323 in Lemon Grove, compared to the state average of $14,725.

That figure does not include a healthy package of fringe benefits.

Another analysis shows that teachers received raises totalling 28.95 per cent during the last five years.

Absent from all the discussion outside of the bargaining sessions is talk of a strike by teachers.

According to the new uniform guidelines, an impasse may be declared by either side, at which time a mediator is hired out at district expense.

If the mediator fails to reach a settlement in 15 days a fact-finding panel may be formed to help the cause.

The mediator and costs incurred by the panel chairman are paid by the school district.

Impasse proceedings are outlined in the legislation in detail as a means of averting a teacher walk-out.

The legislation specifically denies authorizing strikes.

MM VP Becomes USMCR Colonel

Bill White, vice principal at Mt. Miguel High school, was promoted to colonel, U.S. Marine Corps Reserves in a ceremony recently at the USMC Depot. He has served in the Reserves for 25 years.

Major General Kenneth Houghton, commandant of Depot, made the presentation.

Col. White is a former football and basketball coach of Helix High school, and later, athletic director. He served at Helix 1 years until 6 years ago..

Then he was named vice principal at Santana High before coming to Mt. Miguel.

He is past president of the Marine Corps Reserve Officers' Assn., a member of the Far West Ski Assn. and vice president of the Lemon Grove Lions club.

He lives in El Cajon..

895 on State Payroll Top Governor's Salary

At least 895 state-level public employees now earn more than Governor Brown's $49,100 annual salary, according to the California Taxpayers' Association.

In reviewing state government-paid salaries CTA discovered that the highest paid employee of the state is an anonymous University of California health science professor whose salary has been confirmed at $94,000 a year.

The highest paid state-level public official is Donald Wright, chief justice of the State Supreme Court, who will earn $66,869 this year.

Others earning more than the Governor are 287 other U.C. health science professors, 564 state judges, 41 academic administrators and one state commission director, according to the CTA.

State Park Use Up

Visitor attendance at units of the State Park System jumped 12.6 per cent in fiscal 1975-76 over the previous year, State Parks and Recreation Director Herbert Rhodes announced.

"The 1975-76 attendance of 54,766,242 was the highest ever recorded in the State Park System and surpassed the previous year's attendance by 6,136,698 visitors."

Class Teaches What To Do In Day-to-Day Emergencies

How to handle a household or neighborhood emergency is the subject of a free one-evening community service program at Grossmont Community College.

Offered in cooperation with the California Federation of Women's Clubs and the University of California, San Diego, School of Medicine, the course will provide information on what to do if a child swallows an insecticide, an elderly friends faints, or a neighbor dislocates his arm. Along with burns, cramps, shock, drug overdose and convulsions, these episodes of sudden emergencies require a quick, well-informed response.

Ranging from ways to make a burned finger more comfortable to emergency measures for saving a life, this program is designed to increase the average person's capability to provide effective help in an emergency situation.

Nancy Stewart, head nurse at the University Hospital Trauma Center, will discuss and demonstrate proper responses to sudden traumas. Gail Cooper, San Diego County Office of Emergency Medical Services, will demonstrate cardio-pulmonary resuscitation while Louise Seliga, University Hospital Poison Information Center, will discuss proper information procedures when a person swallows poison.

The session is set for Friday at 8 p.m. in the college's Fine Arts Recital Hall.

L.G. Civic Leader Joins Area R.E. Firm

C. J. "Skip" Heidick of 2612 Nida pl., Lemon Grove, who was director of Civil Defense for the area and for six years, served as a director of the board of the L..G. Fire Protection District, announced this week that he is now in the real estate business.

Heidick has lived in Lemon Grove 24 years and lives at 2612 Nida pl. The firm with which he has become associated is the Cono Realty Co. of 6526 El Cajon blvd. He will handle the entire spectrum of property — income, exchange, lots, and acreage, which includes buying, selling, leasing and exchanging.

Heidick is a retired Army captain and a member of the Reserve Officers Assn. He served in WWII and the Korean Conflict. He is also a member of the Sons of the American Revolution and a member of the Masonic Blue Lodge and the Scottish Rite Bodies.

As a 15-year old Boy Scout, he was awarded the President's medal and made an honorary member of the National Safety Council after he applied mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to the father of his friend, a neighbor, and revived him. The man had been asphixiated while tuning up his car with the garage door closed.

He has been regional manager of the computer division of Clary Corp. for 7 years; associated with EBS Data Processing for 5 years and more recently, with Industrial Supply.

He is married and the couple has two children. A son and a daughter. The son, Gary, is a substitute teacher at Mt. Miguel High school and carries degrees from S.D. State U. in Spanish and French.

15 Months is Ripe Age for Measles Shot, Says Lackner

The State Department of Health has changed its official suggestion regarding 7-day flu immunization for infants.

Previously having recommended routinely immunizing one-year-olds against the disease, the Department now recommends vaccine after infants reach 15 months of age.

The action was based on recommendations made by the American Academy Pediatrics Committee which in turn was influenced by studies that show an 80 to 85 per cent antibody effectiveness in year-old infants and more than 95 per cent effectiveness among babies immunized when 15 months old.

In a community where an outbreak of measles occurs, babies as young as six months should be immunized with a follow-up immunization at age 15 months, according to State Health Director Jerome Lackner.

The measles vaccine has proven effective since it was first licensed for use 13 years ago, Lackner said.

Prior to that time major epidemics were common at two or three year intervals in most communities.

Copyright Law Change Opens Xerox Use in School Classrooms

A change in the copyright law, prompted by the widespread use of Xerox and other copying machines, recognizes the doctrine of "fair use" in schools.

A teacher may now make a single copy of a chapter of a book; an article from a periodical; a short story; a chart, graph or diagram.

Also, multiple copies can be made for each pupil in the class of excerpts of materials defined as not more than 250 words of a poem, and not more than 2,500 words from a manuscript.

However, copying of excerpts is not permitted if the purpose of the teacher is to create an anthology.

Multiple copying is not permitted at all if it is of consumable material such as workbooks, standardized tests, etc.

No charges can be made to the student beyond the cost of photocopying itself.

A school board, superintendent or other supervisory person cannot order or direct copying to be done. It must originate at the classroom level.

Educational uses, other than those enumerated, may fall within the general term of "fair use."

The general language incidents that it is not an infringement to use copyrighted material for purposes such as criticisms, comments, news reporting, teaching, scholarship or research.

Copies of the new copyright law, S 107, or other federal legislation are available through your congressional representative, House Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20515.

VA Says 'Thanks'

Dear Editor,

The men and women of the Veterans Administration in San Diego are aware of the community services provided by your newspaper on a continuing basis. Your balanced reporting of changes in VA benefits for veterans and their dependents has been instrumental in making the maximum number of potential beneficiaries aware of their rights.

I want to express our special appreciation, however, for your splendid cooperation during this Reginal Office's Veterans Benefits Awareness Month. Response to the program was outstanding, with the interest and support shown by the Lemon Grove Review and Spring Valley Bulletin a significant factor in its success.

Please extend the gratitude of the Regional Office staff to all your employees. Your courtesy and professionalism are sincerely appreciated. We are looking forward to our continuing cooperation in providing effective services to your veteran and dependent readers.

Restaurant Stop Costs Man $5,400

It was one of the more expensive repasts of the year. It was November 2. It cost more than $5,000.

Ramsey L. Namor, manager of the Food Palace market at 3550 National ave., National City, told sheriff's deputies that a brown paper bag with $5,400 in bills he left on the counter at Denny's Restaurant, 6956 Federal blvd., Lemon Grove, was missing after he left it to pay his check.

The money, he said, was to have been deposited at the Lemon Grove Crocker Bank.

He said that the restaurant manager refused to let him search the place.

The money was $5,000 in 20s and $400 in 10s.

The loss is said to have occurred about 5 p.m.

'Bleeker Street' is Next for SD Opera

The San Diego Opera will present Menotti's "The Saint of Bleeker Street" December 1-7 at the Civic Theater.

The most "operatic" of Menotti's works to date, it was acclaimed a "smash hit" on Broadway when it premiered in 1954 and was awarded a Pulitzer Prize.

Performances are at 8 p.m. December 1 and 3; 2:30 p.m. on the 5th and at 7 p.m. on the 7th.

Tickets are on sale at the Center Box Office, C st., S.D.; Ticketron outlets, Sears and Montgomery Ward stores.

Valley Skater in Regional Competition

Leslea Brickner, Spring Valley Junior High School seventh grader, will represent the San Diego Figure Skating Club in the annual Southwest Pacific regional championships at Los Angeles today through Sunday and December 2-5.

She won the novice ladies title in the club's annual competition last month.

The Southwest Pacific regional meet is sanctioned by the U. S. Figure Skating Association.

California Students Better Scores in State Testing

A decline in scores of California's 12th graders in reading, writing and mathematics has been reversed, Wilson Riles, state superintendent of public instruction, told members of the State Board of Education last week.

The improved scores for the state's high school seniors, accompanied by a continuation of improved scores in other grades tested, were disclosed in the results of 1975-76 testing conducted by the California Assessment Program.

The California tests involved all of the state's 1.15 million 2nd, 3rd, 6th and 12th grades.

"The scores at all four grade levels were better in all subjects tested than in 1974-75," Riles said.

Other findings:

Reading scores were up 2 per cent for 6th graders, up 0.6 per cent for 12th graders, up 0.1 per cent for both 2nd and 3rd graders.

Math scores were up 2.4 per cent for 6th graders and up 1.6 per cent for 12th graders.

Written expression scores were up 0.9 per cent for 6th graders and up 0.7 per cent for 12th graders.

Improved scores confirm an upward trend reported by testing results last year. Between 1969 and '74, a steady year-after-year decline had been recorded.

School Needs Helpers for ECE Program

"We can use everyone!" is part of the call put out by the coordinator of volunteers for the Mt. Vernon Elementary School Early Childhood Education program.

Volunteers are needed to work with elementary children in the classrooms, school office and media center.

Helpers need not be parents of District school children. They need only have a desire to spend some time working with school children.

Under the Early Childhood Education concept, assistance from all age groups — cross-age tutors to seniors citizens — is employed to intensify instructional guidance in the formative years.

Interested individuals should contact Susie Cullins at Mt. Vernon School — 463-9801 — Monday, Wednesday or Friday between 8:30 and 10:30 a.m.

Buckner Reelected to CSBA Assembly Seat

H. Warren Buckner, president of the Lemon Grove School District Governing Board, has been reelected by board of education members throughout the county to the State Board of Delegates of the California School Boards Association.

Buckner, who has served the district 19 years, is the senior member on the Lemon Grove School Board. He has served on the Region 17 Delegate Assembly of CSBA nine years.

He will join other board members at the State CSBA conference to be held in San Diego December 3-5.

High Schoolers Get Jobs With S&L Assn.

Linda Morales, a Mt. Miguel High school senior is one of three area high school 17-year old young ladies chosen as H.I.R.E. trainees at Home Federal Savings and Loan Assn. of San Diego.

The others are Angela Marwell, an honor student at Lincoln, and Carla Diaz, a senior at Morse.

HIRE, an acronym for Hired, Instructed, Responsible, Employed, is a work-study program that introduces high school students to the savings and loan business. Participants were selected after interviews with school guidance counsellors and Home Federal employees.

"Student participants attend school each morning and then report to work each afternoon for 24 weeks," explained Randy Evans, H.I.R.E. Coordinator. "After 16 weeks of teller and loan schools, the participants will have eight weeks of on-the-job training."

On successful completion of the program the participants will be trained for full-time jobs at Home Federal or other financial institutions, he said.

$1,000 Tricycle Stolen

A three-wheeled motorcycle was taken from the garage of James A. Scott who lives at 755 Conception st. in Spring Valley.

Scott told police he was keeping the bike for a friend. It was valued at $1,000.

The thief cut the lock to get to the vehicle, police reported.

Principal Meyer Resigns Post at Monterey Hts.

Eldon "Mike" Meyer has announced his resignation as principal at Monterey Heights Elementary School, Lemon Grove, effective at the end of the school year.

Meyer, who is leaving to resume graduate studies, came to the district in 1971 as a one-year replacement for Art Thomas who was on sabbatical leave.

He stayed on six years as principal at Monterey Heights.

Acting school superintendent Jim Justeson said preparations for choosing a replacement will be similar to those used last year when two principals — Hal Brogan from Palm Jr. High and Wiley Cornelius from Mt. Vernon Elementary — retired.

USD Students To Fast Today

Students of USD are joining a nationwide fast today, the Thursday before Thanksgiving. Money which would ordinarily be spent for a day's meals will be sent to Oxfam America's relief programs.

Oxfam-America is an independent development and relief agency affiliated with international Oxford Committee for Famine Relief (Oxfam), established in England in 1942.

USD has participated in the fast for three years. This year an entire week of activities is being conducted by USD's Campus Ministry ending Monday.

Oxfam requests that fast participants limit their food intake to coffee, tea, juice or broth. The University Food Service has set up a broth line for students who wish to refrain from eating their usual meals today.

High School Bands In Ms. Goose Parade

The Matadors of Mt. Miguel and Helix Highlanders will be featured during Ch. 6's fourth annual coverage of the Mother Goose Parade, to be aired Thanksgiving Day 8 to 10 a.m.

The local high school bands will be the only prep units from Southern California to appear in the Rose Parade, the project's publicist said.

Co-hosted by Don Howard and Doris Boyar, the televised highlights of the 30th annual event billed as "the second largest parade west of the Mississippi," will include close-up looks of award-winning floats.

Grand marshal for the 1976 parade will be Dean Jones of Walt Disney Productions' "Shaggy Dog" motion picture series, with Disney representatives the Shaggy Dog, Mickey Mouse and Minnie Mouse expected as special guests.

Carlos Wins Vacation

The treasure won by Spring Valley resident Larry Carlos in KFMB Radio's "Treasurers of the Earth" contest is white, wet and cold . . . snow.

Carlos, who lives on Maria ave., has won a three-day, two-night ski vacation at Utah's Park City resort as part of the current KFMB/76-sponsored hunt to locate treasure hidden in 10 cities around the earth.

Station listeners have been challenged to route an around-the-world treasure-hunting trip, listing cities in order.

Contest hopefuls are given the opportunity to place an "on-the-air" telephone call to KFMB/76 each hour from 6 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. The successful "armchair pirate" will win a globe-circling air trip to the treasure cities.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY — In the prime of his youth Andrew Ervast deferred wishes to join the Alaska gold rush, and fresh out of college, arrived in San Diego to begin a long career as an engineer during the pioneer days of the city's growth. Today, at 100, he remains a state-licensed engineer.

Ervast Turns 100 Sunday; Was Pioneer Planner in SD

By John Kowalcyk

Andrew Ervast came to San Diego in 1897 and has lived here ever since.

"To my great regret," he adds.

Ervast was determined to lay claim to at least part of the riches being discovered in Alaska at the time he arrived in the county to take up engineering on the Marina Dam.

He never quite made it to Alaska, where a rush for gold captivated his imagination in his youth — just as his father had been affected by a similar mania in California half a century before him.

But his determination earned him everything else he ever set his mind to — including a long span of years on earth — 100 of them, to be exact, as of this Sunday.

Ervast remains a licensed engineer who has specialized in hydraulics and spent a good part of the century developing projects for San Diego County businesses and government.

In his own brand of never-quit heritage, he keeps a state engineer's license up to date and vows to renew it again when it expires on December 30.

"I never quit on anything," he says with spunk. "They've got to knock me overboard."

Now living with a daughter and son-in-law — Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Young at 7553 Cuyamaca st., Lemon Grove — he has an acutely sharp memory for details about his long life.

He can spout off seemingly endless facts about his career as an engineer including 32 years working for the J. D. and A. B. Spreckles Company.

Spreckles and E. S. Babcock, pioneers in the development of San Diego, were close personal friends of Ervast as well as his bosses. Both men praised him as most efficient and capable, he said.

Professional positions he has held include member of the board of directors for the San Diego Electric Railway, manager of the Coronado Water Company, Civil Engineer of Coronado and Chief engineer of the Spreckles enterprise.

Relatives will salute the man during a family celebration of Ervast's special birthday on Saturday at the Young's Lemon Grove home.

Out-of-towners expected include a granddaughter and husband from Illinois who will bring with them his first great-granddaughter, three weeks old.

Others expected are from Northern California and the San Diego area.

Bank Earnings Stay on Upward 3rd Qtr. Keel

BankAmerica Corporation reports that an upward trend in earnings which marked its first-half continued in the third quarter of the year.

President A. W. Clausen announced that consolidated income before securities transactions for the nine months ended September 30 totaled $242.3 million, or $1.75 per share, up to 1 per cent.

Net income for the first nine months increased to $242.5 million; or $1.75 per share, representing a gain of 10.1 percent.

Clausen attributed the continued improvement in the corporation's earnings in the third quarter to a rise in its pre-tax interest differential (on a taxable equivalent basis) and an increase in non-interest income.

Health System Group Seeks Executive Director, Staff

A variety of items is on the agenda of the governing body of the San Diego-Imperial Counties Health Systems Agency (HSA) at its public meeting tomorrow night.

The meeting is at 7 p.m. at 3211 Jefferson st., San Diego, and will be chaired by Dr. Richard Peters, HSA president.

The agenda calls for a report on the recruitment status of an executive director and other personnel. Deadline for receipt of applications for director is December 13. No deadline has been set for the submission of other position applications.

A proposed affirmative action program (AAP) will be reviewed by the governing body. The AAP, which adheres to Federal laws and regulations, reflects the Agency's policy of providing equal access to employment for all persons.

Members are expected to decide upon a permanent location for the HSA office. They will discuss the Agency's work program for the first year.

As a follow-up to its letter of intent to the State Advisory Health Council, the governing body will hear a report on the papers that are required in order to apply for designation as this area's Health Planning Agency for Certificate of Need review. If approved, the HSA would then review requests for the construction of new, and the expansion of existing, health care facilities and certain services.

The public is invited. The telephone is 236-2727.

Median Home Price in State Tops $50,000

The median price of a resale home in California jumped to $50,298 in September, a 2.8 per cent increase over the previous month according to the California Association of Realtors.

The median price fell one half of one per cent during the month of August.

CAR conducts a monthly survey in order to keep track of current housing trends.

Existing home sales in the $40,000-$49,999 price range continued to lead all other $10,000 price classes, with 24.4 per cent of those who bought home in September making purchases in this range.

However, the $50,000-$59,999 category sprang past the $30,000-$39,999 price class, and into second place with 18.1 per cent. The $30,000-$39,999 range accounted for 16.9 per cent of September's resold homes.

Les McCann Opens USD Jazz Series

Premier Night of the U.S.D. Jazz Series, November 29, will feature famed jazz artist Les McCann in Camino Theater at 8 p.m.

Co-sponsoring the event are USD, ASB and the Society for the Preservation of Jazz.

McCann's blending of fine music with good entertainment has made him tremendously popular for over twenty years with American audiences from jazz spots along the Sunset Strip to the Cincinnati Symphony, and with European audiences at the Antibes and Montreaux Jazz Festivals. "Invitation to Openness" and two "Swiss Movement" albums are among the forty he has recorded.

Appearing on the same program is the Joe Marillo Quarter. Marillo is president of the Society for the Preservation of Jazz.

Tickets are $5. Students from other schools pay $4.

Coast Guard Says End Nears for GI Bill School Plum

The U. S. Coast Guard has announced a special offer for a limited time only.

Recruits who sign before the end of the year receive 45 months of fully paid education under the current GI Bill.

After December 31 a contributory education program replaces GI Bill benefits. The new program requires a $50 to $5 monthly contributions by the serviceman.

A special delay-entry policy allows a high school or college student to enlist before 1977, qualify for GI Bill benefits but not begin active duty until next summer.

Tax relief when you need it!
Retirement as you like it!

With an Individual Retirement Account (IRA)

If you're employed, but have no retirement plan, a tax-deferred Home Federal IRA is perfect.

You can deposit up to $1500 a year (or 15% of wages—whichever is less) and deduct it from your income on your Federal and State tax return. And you pay no taxes on the interest it earns until withdrawn.

Or, if you've left a company with cash from stock, profit sharing, or retirement plan, you can avoid current taxes by opening an IRA within 60 days of receipt.

Of course, at Home Federal, your savings are insured to $40,000. The chart below shows you how fast your money multiplies at Home Federal.

You pay no tax on principal or interest until you retire (at age 59½ or older), when you will probably be in a reduced tax bracket.

For more details on cutting taxes and happier retirement, call or visit your nearest office of Home Federal.

Account must be opened and contributed to by December 31.

If you are self-employed, we can help you build for retirement by opening a Keogh Account.

Annual Deposit*	Total Deposited	Interest Earned	Account Total
6	$ 9,000	$ 2,907.71	$ 11,907.71
10	15,000	8,544.70	23,544.70
15	22,500	21,706.60	44,206.60
